

BAYWORK SPOTLIGHT WOMEN IN TRADES

Angela Andrews

Capital Portfolio Manager

Angela Andrews, from West County Wastewater was nominated by her peers and the members of BAYWORK for her commitment to service and passion for women in the trades.

BAYWORK proudly honors the Resilience and Excellence of Women of Color in Water: A tribute During Black History Month.

Angela Andrews has been with West County Wastewater for 3 years, and 14 years in Development. Her primary responsibility is to manage the delivery of projects in the Capital Program. Projects include sewer infrastructure, plant process, and facility upgrades.

Certifications and Skills:

Project Management Professional Certification- (PMP)

What interested you to pursue a career in the field?

"In my career I have always worked in areas I am passionate about which is work that helps the community. West County Wastewater gives me the opportunity to work in community development, environmental justice, and reducing the impacts of climate change."

If you can provide one piece of advice for women entering the field, what would it be?

"Someone told me to remember to enjoy every stage in your life. What you are doing now will serve you in your future. Soon you will start to see a pattern of what interest you but also shows your value to the organizations you work for and what you bring to the table when there are opportunities you would like to pursue."

To learn more about BAYWORK, or how to nominate a woman in trade or water, go to www.baywork.org

